Corporate One FCU Announces Renewal of Associate Business Membership with Credit Union National Association

COLUMBUS, Ohio—Corporate One Federal Credit Union has announced their associate business membership renewal with Credit Union National Association (CUNA), America's national trade association that advocates for the entire credit union movement.

As a business advocate with CUNA, Corporate One will add to this unequalled advocacy network and create positive regulatory and legislative change to make the movement stronger for everyone.

“By helping CUNA tell the credit union story, we hope to remove barriers for credit union success and foster deeper relationships with credit unions across the country,” said Melissa Ashley, Corporate One's CEO/president. “Our voices are stronger together, and we hope to help credit unions achieve their goals and ultimately empower industry growth through this new and exciting relationship.”

“Associate Business Members provide the credit union system great value by engaging in advocacy, which bolsters our entire movement,” said CUNA's Deputy Chief Engagement Officer Greg Michlig. “Corporate One's partnership with CUNA helps strengthen our mission and means we're able to arm even more of our system partners with the tools they need so we are all working together to remove barriers for credit union success.”
