

Corporate One not impacted by SolarWinds Orion software compromise

December 17, 2020—It was announced earlier this week that SolarWinds Orion software suffered a compromise. As a user of Orion software for internal network monitoring, Corporate One took immediate investigative action to understand any possible impact. We would like to assure our membership that it has been verified Corporate One was NOT running the affected version of the Orion software, and, therefore, not vulnerable to the disclosed compromise. Further, we have confirmed that our layered security toolsets are able to detect and block this sort of threat should the situation arise.
